DETAILED ACTION

Request for Continued Examination

The request filed on 6/20/03 for a Request for Continued Examination (RCE) under 37 CFR 1.114 based on parent Application No. 10/031,864 is acceptable and a RCE has been established. An action on the RCE follows.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 6,7, 9-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent 5,752,462, issued to Petersson, as indicated on Applicant's attached PTO Form 1449.

Petersson discloses the claimed invention including, inter alia, a flexible milk hose made from a uniform material for connecting a teat cup to a multiway valve in an automatic milking plant, comprising:
a first end portion for connection to a connecting neck of the teat cup (20);

Art Unit: 3644

a second end portion (30) for connecting to a connecting neck of the multiway valve;

a center piece (as noted in figures 1 and 2) having a substantially constant interior diameter, and including spaced apart reinforcement elements (36) (taught by the reference as being spaced apart elevations of material enclosing the circumference of the center piece at least partially, which at least partially enclose a circumference of a predetermined area of the center piece, the center piece having a greater flexibility than the first and second end portions, the flexibility increasing towards a middle of the center piece, and;

wherein the wall thickness of each of the spaced apart elevations of material exceeds a wall thickness in an area located between two adjacent spaced apart elevations (as noted in fig. 1).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S.

Patent 5,752,462, issued to Petersson, as indicated on Applicant's attached PTO Form 1449.

Petersson discloses the claimed invention except for teaching the distance between two respective neighboring reinforcement elements decreases from the middle of the center piece towards the respective first and second end portions.

It would have been obvious to a skilled artisan at the time the invention was made to have modified the distance between the spaced apart elements to any desired length or decreasing space arrangement, since Applicant has failed to provide any criticality for such a modification.
